THE WEATHER

Pressure remained high Thursday off the Atlantic coast, but it fell considerably over the St. Lawrence valley and the lake region.

Generally fair weather has prevailed during the last twenty-four hours, except that there were showers along the New England coast, in southern Florida and from the upper Mississippi valley toward the upper Mississippi valley and middle Missouri valley, the central plains states and the Rocky mountain region.

The indications are for generally fair and somewhat warmer weather Friday in the Atlantic states. On Saturday the weather will become unsettled generally, with the possibility of showers and thunderstorms. The temperature will be somewhat lower Saturday as the high east of the Appalachian mountains.

Winds: North of Sandy Hook, and Sandy Hook to Hatteras, moderate to fresh south and southwest and fair Friday.

Forecast: North New England: Generally fair Friday; warmer in interior; Saturday showers. Southern New England: Fair and slightly warmer Friday; Saturday showers and probably thunder showers in extreme north portion; Saturday showers and thunder showers.

NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1932.

VIRGINIA THUNDER STORM GREETED CONNECTICUT ARTILLERYMEN'S ARRIVAL

(Special to The Bulletin.) Camp Easton, Va., July 4.—Battery B, Capt. W. R. Denison in command, and the 12th regiment, 1st artillery, arrived at the camp at Easton, Va., Sunday evening, enroute at 11:10 p. m. after traveling 505 miles. It was a hot and dry day and the hottest day of the season at the camp, but the artillerymen were spared a hike as the train ran right out to camp.

After the march and something to eat, most of the men retired, but nature had a little recreation prepared for them, which was staged at 2 a. m. in the thunderstorm with wind and lightning. There were as many as 100 lightning bolts in the air and the men were all up and out of their quarters with their shoes on and their hands on their heads.

The lightning struck and set fire to one of the quartermaster's stores, necessitating calling out the entire regiment, but the camp fire department soon had the fire out and all the men went back to their quarters with their shoes on and their hands on their heads.

The instruction consists of practical training on guns, instruments, telephones, radio, small arms, tactics, big gun practice, convoy work.

Officers and enlisted men from the 1st and 2nd artillery regiments are detailed with every battery and detail as instructors, and have been found very capable and willing instructors. There are many trucks and machines of different kinds which have been put at the disposal of the regiment.

Much equipment has been turned over to the 12th regiment, which is being used while in camp. For example the First Bn. and 12th regiment have had turned over to them 12 P. W. trucks.

There is a "house" in the very rear equipped and clean. The regiment is quartered in concrete barracks which are very comfortable and plenty of room.

DOESN'T KNOW WHY WIFE WANTED TO GET EVEN

Dr. Harry M. Lee of New London was on the stand much of the day Thursday in the superior court at New London, giving testimony in the divorce suit brought against him by Mrs. Adelaide Palmer Lee on the grounds of intolerable cruelty. He testified that Mrs. Lee had threatened at various times to ruin him professionally, socially and financially, and threatened to leave him and get square with him, although he said he did not know what she was going to get square about.

Lee gave testimony that Mrs. Lee's physical condition was much worse on his return from France after the World war than when he went away. He declared that aside from the noticeable lack of enthusiasm and devotion toward him, he saw evidence that she had been smoking excessively; she was thinner, paler than usual and that her condition was generally bad.

He also declared that Mrs. Lee had displayed anger and hatred toward him at various times and that it seemed to be more marked upon her return from France. Lee said that Mrs. Lee had never charged him with anything and that although he had asked her for only thing that might hurt him, it was a kiss, she had never given him one.

Dr. Lee said that although Mrs. Lee had never showed him the love and affection which he desired, yet she was still more hostile to him than before. He declared that the hostility was not due to any ill treatment or cruelty on his part.

Dr. Lee said that he had pleaded with Mrs. Lee with all his force many times, to try to cease smoking. He said that he did not want Mrs. Lee to smoke at all, but he had never been able to get her to stop. He said that he had pleaded with her to stop smoking, but she had never given him one.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SAVE $1915 THROUGH CHELSEA CLUB

Since the last week of January, when the first of the day/Thursday school children in New London, Conn., town of North Stonington, Borah, Ledford, Libanon, Voluntown, Sterling, Canterbury and Sprague have deposited $1,915.39 in The Chelsea Savings Bank operated by the Chelsea Savings Bank of Norwich. At the end of the school year there were 51 school rooms enrolled in the club, most of the rooms representing a whole school, as the schools are almost entirely of the one-room rural variety.

Not only is the actual money saved of vital importance to the children, but the early forming of the saving habit, and the banking experience are very beneficial and helpful to them.

Every Monday morning directly after prayers each school room has its "banking hour" at which the pupils make their deposits. In the schools with the older children, one of the pupils is appointed bank teller by the teacher. The teller sits at the teacher's desk and receives the money. The amount of the deposit is more marked upon the child's record as a memorandum, showing how much the pupil has deposited. The teller also enters the depositor's name and amount of each deposit on a form supplied by the bank. This form is made out in duplicate, one copy is sent to the bank with the money and the other retained by the teacher as her record. After all the deposits have been made, the teller adds up the bank sheet and counts the money he has, to see that his "cash sheet" is correct. This little insight into banking proves to be very interesting to the children, as well as instructive.

These school funds are kept in a separate account at the bank until a child has deposited one dollar, when the teacher transfers to the regular savings department and a regular savings bank book is made out and sent to the depositor.

In these 51 rural schools there have been 522 children who have joined the club. The First school of Canterbury, which has deposited $201.39, shows the largest amount deposited by one school. The second largest is the Hasee school of Preston, with deposits of $167.51. Of the 522 pupils in the club, 385 deposited over one dollar, thereby receiving a savings bank book. The town of Borah leads the towns with total of $482.46 to its credit, with Preston second, with $228.04.

The Chelsea Savings Bank will again be held for the best essay written by children on some subject to be announced. This prize contest will again be held in the Chelsea Savings Bank.

Great credit is due the teachers who have taken a very prominent part in encouraging the school children in their savings. They have not only been every effort to train the children along the lines of thrift, as well as along the lines of reading and writing.

The habit of thrift formed in early childhood is a habit which will be of great benefit to them personally, as well as to the coming generation in general.
